Ephesus Ancient City

Ephesus was an ancient Greek city on the coast of Ionia, three kilometres southwest of present-day Selçuk in İzmir Province, Turkey. It was built in the 10th century BC on the site of the former Arzawan capital by Attic and Ionian Greek colonists. During the Classical Greek era, it was one of the twelve cities of the Ionian League. The city flourished after it came under the control of the Roman Republic in 129 BC.

Ephesos Museum

The museum possesses remnants from the late-Classical Altar of Artemis, including a sculpture of an Amazon. Staircases lead from the entrance hall to a large chamber containing the Parthian Monument of Ephesus frieze. Other major exhibits include a model of ancient Ephesus on a scale of 1:500 and numerous sculptures, including a bronze statue of an athlete.

Also in the museum are architectural and sculptural cult relics from the Sanctuary of the Great Gods on the Greek island of Samothrace.
